Prior to drilling, the company will be conducting approximately 520-line kilometers of UAV-Borne magnetics over both Middle River Gold and the VMS Brunswick Horizon Targets to assist in drill target definition. Flown at an average altitude of 26 meters and a linespacing of 25 meters, 3D inversion modeling of this high-resolution magnetic data is proven to be an excellent tool for drill targeting both magnetic and non-magnetic mineralized bodies. At Middle River Gold, 18 kilometers of Ground based Induced Polarization (I.P) will also be conducted to identify the disseminated sulphide halo associated with the gold mineralization, assisting greatly with target definition. At the VMS Brunswick Extension, the Company also plans to conduct 35 kilometers of high sensitivity Time Domain Electro-Magnetics (TDEM) to map the location and orientation of the subsurface conductors. Combined with the UAV magnetics, the Company is using the most effective direct-targeting geophysical methods for identifying massive sulphide deposits.

“We are pleased to have the support of Aligned Capital Partners as strategic investors in Thistle Resources Corp. Their investment will enable the Company to unlock the potential of our assets and build shareholder value. We are also excited to complete our 2021 step out drill program at Middle River Gold and prove it’s a much larger deposit. We are going to drill our prolific VMS Target Area @ the newly defined ‘Brunswick Horizon Extension’ on the east flank of our property. Along with our Geophysical partners, we all expect to intersect mineralization and have a very successful drill program this summer”, stated Patrick J Cruickshank, MBA, President & CEO.
